Notes to Financial Statements

(Unaudited) (Expressed in Canadian dollars)

1. CORPORATE INFORMATION AND NATURE OF OPERATIONS

Apex Resources Inc. (the "Company" or "Apex"), incorporated in British Columbia, is a public company listed on the TSX Venture Exchange ("TSX-V") and trading under the symbol APX. The Company changed its name from Sultan Minerals Inc. to Apex Resources Inc. on July 15, 2016. The address of the Company's registered corporate office and its principal place of business is 1066 West Hastings Street, Suite 2000, Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada.

The Company is in the exploration stage and its principal business activity is the exploration and evaluation of mineral properties in Canada. The Company is in the process of exploring and evaluating its mineral properties and has not yet determined whether these properties contain ore reserves that are economically recoverable.

The amounts shown as exploration and evaluation assets and related capitalized exploration costs represent costs net of recoveries to date, less amounts written off, and do not necessarily represent present or future values. Recoverability of the amounts shown for mineral properties is dependent upon the discovery of economically recoverable mineral reserves, securing and maintaining title and beneficial interest in the properties, the ability of the Company to obtain financing necessary to complete the exploration and development of its mineral property interests, and on future profitable production or proceeds from the disposition of the mineral property interests.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION

a) Statement of Compliance

These unaudited condensed interim financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Accounting Standard ("IAS") 34 – Interim Financial Reporting under International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB"). These condensed interim financial statements follow the same accounting policies and methods of application as the most recent annual financial statements of the Company. These condensed interim financial statements do not contain all of the information required for full annual financial statements. Accordingly, these unaudited condensed interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company's December 31, 2018, annual financial statements, which were prepared in accordance with IFRS as issued by the IASB.

The financial statements were authorized for issuance by the Board of Directors on August 20, 2019.

b) Going Concern

These financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis, which assumes that the Company will continue its operations for the next fiscal year. The Company incurred a net loss of $243,518 for the period ended June 30, 2019 and had an accumulated deficit of $24,139,742 at June 30, 2019, which has been funded primarily by issuance of shares and receipt of mineral property option proceeds. The Company's ability to continue its operations and to realize assets at their carrying values is dependent upon obtaining additional financing or maintaining continued support from its shareholders and creditors, and generating profitable operations in the future. The Company has been successful in the past in raising funds for operations by issuing shares but there is no assurance that it will be able to continue to do so in the future. These factors comprise a material uncertainty which may cast significant doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

c) Measurement Basis

These financial statements are prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments, which are measured at fair value as explained in the accounting policies set out in Note 3 to the audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2018. All amounts are expressed in Canadian dollars unless otherwise stated.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION (CONTINUED)

d) Significant Judgments and Estimates

The preparation of these financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions which affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and revenues and expenses for the periods reported. Significant areas requiring the use of management estimates include the determination of impairment of exploration and evaluation assets, decommissioning liabilities, deferred income tax assets and liabilities, and assumptions used in valuing options and warrants in share-based compensation calculations. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

3. RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

Application of new and revised accounting standards

IFRS 16 Leases: IFRS 16 is effective for accounting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019. This standard sets out a new model for lease accounting, which requires the lessee to recognize assets and liabilities for all leases with a term of longer than 12 months, with the exception of low-value assets. The adoption of this standard did not have a significant impact on the Company's financial statements, as the Company has no leases with a term longer than 12 months.

New accounting policy effective January 1, 2019:

At inception of a contract, the Company assesses whether the contract is, or contains, a lease. A contract contains a lease if it conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. If a contract contains a lease, the Company recognizes a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the commencement date of the lease.

The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost, and is subsequently adjusted for accumulated depreciation, impairment and any adjustments to the corresponding lease liability. The cost of the right-of-use asset includes the initial measurement of the lease liability, initial direct costs incurred, lease payments made less incentives received, and any estimate of the costs related to dismantling or removing the asset as well as site restoration costs required by the lease contract.

The lease liability is measured at the present value of the future lease payments discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease. If the rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable, the Company uses its incremental borrowing rate. Lease payments include fixed payments less incentives, variable payments that depend on an index or rate, amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees, the exercise price of a purchase option if expected to be exercised, and any penalties for terminating the lease.

The lease liability is subsequently increased to reflect interest on the lease liability, reduced to reflect the lease payments made and remeasured to reflect any modifications to the contract terms.

Accounting Standards and Amendments Issued but Not yet Effective

The Company has not early adopted any accounting standards or amendments effective January 1, 2019. There were no standards effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019 that would significantly affect the Company.

10. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Financial assets and financial liabilities are measured on an ongoing basis at fair value or amortized cost. The disclosures in the notes to these financial statements describe how the categories of financial instruments are measured and how income and expenses, including fair value gains and losses, are recognized.

As at June 30, 2019, the classification of the financial instruments, as well as their carrying values and fair values, with comparative figures for December 31, 2018, are shown in the table below:

	June 30, 2019		December 31, 2018
	Fair Value	Carrying Value	Fair Value	Carrying Value
Financial assets
Cash	$ 18,985	$ 18,985	$ 137,346	$ 137,346
Short-term investments	110,500	110,500	297,792	297,792
Credit card deposit	17,250	17,250	17,250	17,250
Reclamation deposits	15,120	15,120	15,120	15,120
Financial liabilities
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	46,523	46,523	60,935	60,935
Accounts payable to related parties	47,898	47,898	30,819	30,819

Financial instruments measured at fair value are classified into one of three levels in the fair value hierarchy according to the relative reliability of the inputs used to estimate the fair values. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are:

- i) Level 1 - Applies to assets or liabilities for which there are quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- ii) Level 2 - Applies to assets or liabilities for which there are inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly, such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets, or indirectly, such as quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in markets with insufficient volume or infrequent transactions.
- iii) Level 3 - Applies to assets or liabilities for which there are unobservable market data.

The fair values of the Company's financial instruments measured at June 30, 2019, constitute Level 1 measurements for its cash, short-term investments, credit card deposit and reclamation deposits within the fair value hierarchy.

The Company recognized interest income during the period ended June 30, 2019 totaling $951 (June 30, 2018 - $1,532). This is primarily interest income from the Company's short-term investments. The balance represents interest income from all sources.

Credit Risk

Substantially all of the Company's cash is held with major financial institutions in Canada, and management believe the exposure to credit risk with such institutions is not significant. Those financial assets that potentially subject the Company to credit risk are primarily its investment in marketable securities of publicly-traded companies and any receivables. The Company has increased its focus on credit risk given the impact of the current economic climate. The Company considers the risk of material loss to be significantly mitigated due to the financial strength of the major financial institutions where cash and term deposits are held. The Company's maximum exposure to credit risk as at June 30, 2019, is the carrying value of its financial assets.

10. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (CONTINUED)

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its obligations associated with financial liabilities. The Company has a planning and budgeting process in place by which it anticipates and determines the funds required to support normal operation requirements as well as the growth and development of its mineral property interests. The Company coordinates this planning and budgeting process with its financing activities through the capital management process described in Note 11, in normal circumstances. The Company's financial liabilities are comprised of its accounts payable and accounts payable to related parties, the contractual maturities of which at June 30, 2019 and December 31, 2018, are summarized as follows:

	June 30, 2019	December 31, 2018
Accounts payable with contractual maturities –
Within 90 days or less	$ 9,023	$ 12,510
Accounts payable to related parties with contractual maturities –
Within 90 days or less	10,898	30,819

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of, or future cash flows from, the Company's financial instruments will significantly fluctuate due to changes in market prices. The sale of financial instruments can be affected by changes in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, and equity prices. The Company is exposed to market risk in trading its investments, and unfavourable markets conditions could result in dispositions of investments at less than favourable prices. The Company's investments are accounted for at estimated fair values and are sensitive to changes in markets prices, such that changes in market prices results in a proportionate change in the carrying value of the Company's investments.

The Company's ability to raise capital to fund exploration or evaluation activities is subject to risk associated with fluctuations in the market prices of gold, copper, zinc, lead, molybdenum and tungsten, and the outlook for these metals. The Company's ability to raise capital is affected by the prices of commodities that the Company is exploring for on its mineral property interests. The Company does not have any hedging or other derivative contracts respecting its operations.

Market prices for these metals have historically fluctuated widely and are affected by numerous factors outside of the Company's control, including, but not limited to, levels of worldwide production, short-term changes in supply and demand, industrial and retail demand, central bank lending, and forward sales by producers and speculators. The Company has elected not to actively manage its commodity price risk.

Interest Rate Risk

At June 30, 2019 and December 31, 2018, the Company has no significant exposure to interest rate risk through its financial instruments.

Currency Risk

Fluctuations in United States dollars would not significantly impact the operations and the values of its assets and shareholders' equity at this time. If the Company were to go into production, the Company would be subject to more foreign currency risk from fluctuations in the Canadian dollar relative to the United States dollar, due to metals prices and their denomination in United States dollars.

11. MANAGEMENT OF CAPITAL

The Company's objective in managing capital is to maintain adequate levels of funding to safeguard the Company's ability to continue as a going concern in order to pursue the development of its mineral property interests in British Columbia and Yukon and to maintain a flexible capital structure which will optimize the costs of capital.

The Company endeavours to manage its capital structure in a manner that provides sufficient funding for operational activities through funds primarily secured through equity capital obtained in private placements. There can be no assurances that the Company will be able to continue raising capital in this manner.

Although the Company has been successful at raising funds in the past through the issuance of share capital, it is uncertain whether it will be able to continue this form of financing due to the current difficult conditions. The Company makes adjustments to its management of capital in the light of changes in economic conditions and the risk characteristics of its assets, seeking to limit shareholder dilution and optimize its costs of capital while maintaining an acceptable level of risk. The Company currently has a working capital of $44,390 (December 31, 2018 - $358,366) and must rely on equity financings, or forms of joint venture or other types of financing to fund operations and to continue exploration and evaluation work and to meet its administrative overhead costs in future years (see Note 2b).

The Company's investment policy is to invest its cash in highly liquid short-term interest-bearing investments with maturities allowing the Company to withdraw funds at intervals needed for the expected timing of expenditures in its operations.

12. SUBSEQUENT EVENT

Subsequent to June 30, 2019, the Company decided to abandon the Red Ridge project.
